

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR TERRITORY

F. M. Murphy Predicts That With The Present Rapid Growth of Arizona She Can Demand and Will Receive Statehood Within the Next Two Years.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

"The outlook for the territory in every one of its principal industries is certainly the best in its history," said F. M. Murphy, president of the S. F. P. and P. railroad, and one of the leading captains of industry of the territory, yesterday to a Journal-Miner man after his return from an extended visit in the east.

"Arizona is just getting fairly started," he said. "In less than two years more she will attract the attention of the investors of the entire country by her great growth and improvement."

"The advertising that the territory received from the joint statehood agitation is worth all of the worry and anxiety that it cost. The people of the east became acquainted with Arizona's citizenship and her vast developed and undeveloped resources. There is now a great difference evidenced throughout the east regarding Arizona and New Mexico. Arizona is pointed to with pride on account of the unswerving fight that her citizens made for their rights, while many in New Mexico who were supposed to have the best interests of their territory at heart, and who doubtless believe and know that their territory is entitled to admission to statehood, separate and alone, flunked, so to speak, under the influences brought to bear upon them from Washington, apparently willing to march under the Beveridge banner which is reeking with calumny and defamation of everything that pertains to New Mexico. There has been nothing too low or degrading for Beveridge to say about the citizens of New Mexico and that territory's resources, he having claimed that it was absolutely necessary that Arizona should be joined to New Mexico in order that the high citizenship of this territory might, through its influence, make New Mexico possible."

"It is hard to believe that the best and most influential citizens of New Mexico will, when put to the test, give endorsement to any such sentiments which they will do if they vote for joint statehood. I believe that when the votes are counted this fall it will be found that a very large majority of the citizens of New Mexico have repudiated absolutely the joint statehood idea, and by so doing brand forever as infamous and outrageous the unwarranted statements made by Beveridge and other statehood advocates."

"It must be apparent to every thinking man who lives in New Mexico that if he votes for joint statehood this fall he is admitting that his territory is unfit or unentitled to single statehood. The question is will they admit it. We, in Arizona, will certainly not make any such admission."

"After joint statehood has been defeated by Arizona, assuming that New Mexico votes away her rights by supporting the measure; in a very few years at the latest Arizona will be admitted as a state by herself, after which, in all probability, New Mexico's case will receive consideration."

"There is no question but that both territories should work together to defeat the outrageous proposition of jointure, and then stand together for admission separately, in which case there would not be the slightest chance in the world but that their efforts would meet with success, in all probability within the next two years."

Speaking of the construction of the Arizona and California railroad, he said: "Tracklaying is rapidly progressing there and as soon as the hot weather is over the roadbed will be completed to the river when the bridge will be constructed as fast as possible and the road completed to Bengal with the least possible delay."

When the subject of the new depot at Prescott was mentioned, he said that within the next few days he expected to be able to reach an understanding with parties with whom it is necessary to enter into negotiations for property and land, including an arrangement with the city authorities in regard to drainage matters. When these matters are settled, plans for the new structure will be finally agreed upon, and the work of erecting the new depot, including the enlargement of the yard facilities, commenced at once.

Concluding his remarks he said that he expected to remain in this city for several months, that Prescott had the best summer climate that he knew of anywhere.

DIAMOND DRILL MAN HERE.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Oscar H. Reinhold, general superintendent of the Arizona Diamond Drill Mining Development company, arrived last evening from Los Angeles. This morning he leaves for Wickenburg to examine two groups of mining claims owned by C. W. Brooks, on which he will take an option if the same are satisfactory. The following day he will visit Mayer and the Jerome district, and expects to be in Prescott on Saturday and possibly Sunday, when he can be seen at the Yavapai club by anyone interested in diamond drilling as a means of determining the extent and value of ore bodies.

PRESCOTT PAIR UNDER ARREST.

(From Friday's Daily.)

According to Kingman advices received here yesterday what appears to be a flagrant violation of the Edmunds act came to light in that city on Tuesday last, when William Robinson and Genevieve Carroll were placed under arrest by the United States authorities.

Both were arraigned later before the United States Commissioner and waiving examination were bound over to appear before the United States grand jury, the bonds of Robinson being fixed at $2,500 and those of the woman at $1,500.

William Robinson, until a few months ago, resided in this city and Jerome almost continuously for the past three years, up to about a year ago living with his wife and seven-year-old daughter, the latter dying about that time.

A short time after the death of the little girl he moved with his wife to Los Angeles, both returning after a short stay there. Later they again left for Los Angeles from whence he later returned leaving behind Mrs. Robinson, who now resides at 33 Clay street in this city.

Mrs. Robinson is remembered here by a number of friends won by her charming and womanly manners during a two years' residence. While here she was much devoted to her husband, who also, according to their acquaintances, was very much attached to her, until his return from the coast several months ago, when, it is alleged, he commenced to shower his attentions on the woman who was arrested with him while she was filling engagements at the local concert halls.

A short time ago he left this city, the woman in the case leaving about two weeks later for Kingman, where, it is alleged, she joined him.

Genevieve Carroll, during her residence here, from time to time, furnished more or less trouble to the officers, two or three of her escapades, while under the influence of the flowing bowl, being the subjects of much gossip as well as being the cause of involving several innocent parties in shady transactions. Her striking beauty and siren song has lured many men to the verge of ruin while treading the primrose path, her genial disposition and jovial manners adding much to her attractions.

The father of Mrs. Robinson, who is said to be a wealthy resident of Los Angeles, has engaged the services of Attorney Fred H. Thompson of that city for the prosecution of his errand son-in-law. Attorney Thompson arrived here on Tuesday last to consult with United States district attorney Alexander in the matter, and receiving his permission to proceed in the prosecution of the case, it is said, stated to the United States attorney that his client would defray all the expenses of prosecution in the case, to the end that justice might be meted out to Robinson.

The general sentiment is that Robinson deserves a term in Yuma, this opinion being expressed by those who are in business on Montezuma street, and who are indignant at the base manner in which they say he has treated his faithful wife.

NEW FIRE TRUCK BEST OF ITS KIND.

(From Friday's Daily.)

After many years of agitation on the part of the volunteer fire department, backed by the business interests of the city, Prescott can now proudly point with pride to having one of the best equipped fire departments of any city of its size in the entire southwest.

Yesterday the finishing touches were being put upon the new department headquarters, the new apparatus put in place, to which is attached the most improved Hale automatic swinging harness while the patent springs for the large doors are expected within the next few days.

The new apparatus consists of the latest and most improved Seagrave combination truck, 18 feet in length, carrying over 200 feet of ladders, 1,000 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose, 200 feet of chemical hose, attached to a 40 gallon chemical tank tested to a pressure of 450 pounds, two gold medal extinguishers, with a full complement of tools, including electric wire cutters, cellar pipe nozzle, roof cutters and a number of other patented appliances, the majority of which are the invention of Fire Chief Hale of Kansas City, who ranks among the world's greatest living fire fighters.

The truck, which is constructed almost entirely of steel, is pronounced by local mechanics to be a model of workmanship throughout. It presents a combination of contrivances, all modern in character, seldom found in similar machines, the running gear and body being especially constructed to meet the severe strains necessarily encountered in fast driving over rough and rugged highways.

Charles Kearley, assistant chief of the volunteer department, has direct charge of the team, which he is now training, as well as of the entire apparatus, under Fire Chief A. A. Johns, who is devoting much of his time to the assistance of Kearley in getting the apparatus in shape for immediate service.

The new team recently purchased is being broken to the work, and is a promising one. Teamsters and pedestrians alike are requested by the fire department authorities to give the right of way to the team while racing to a fire in order to eliminate the danger of accidents as the horses composing the team are fast runners, and the truck so heavy that it cannot be suddenly stopped when travelling at a great speed.

The new headquarters building, which is 20 by 60 feet in dimensions adjoins the old headquarters building on the southeast corner of Cortez and Goodwin streets. Quarters for the firemen will be later fitted in the second story of the old building within convenient distance of the team and truck. For the present alarms will be turned in by telephone, but it is the intention of the city authorities to adapt and install an alarm system within the next few months.

Court Action.

Yesterday in the United States district court the hearing of the case of R. M. Brockman on the charge of selling whisky to Indians occupied the attention of the court and jury until five o'clock last evening, when the further examination of witnesses was postponed until 9 o'clock today.

All of the trial jury, with the exception of the 12 sitting on the case were discharged for the term.

A motion for a new trial was denied in the case of James Harvey King, who was found guilty of fornication on Wednesday, and the defendant sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail. A notice of appeal was given, the court placing the appeal bond in the amount of $500.

The Journal-Miner stands up for Prescott and Yavapai county.

FOREST RESERVE ENTRY BILL IS NOW IN FORCE.

A measure of considerable importance to the southwest and particularly those parts of New Mexico and Arizona which are forest reserves, was signed by President Roosevelt last week, and forest supervisors have been advised that the law is now in force. It is the measure allowing entry on agricultural lands in forest reserves. The bill as passed is as follows:

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the secretary having supervision of forest reserves may, upon application, or on his own motion, ascertain, list and describe, by legal subdivisions where surveyed, such lands within forest reserves as appear to his satisfaction to be chiefly valuable for agriculture; and the land so listed shall, upon the filing of such list or lists, in the land office of the district in which they are situated, be open to settlement and entry by actual settlers under the homestead laws only, in tracts not exceeding 160 acres in area, and not exceeding one and one-half miles in length. Provided, that any duly qualified homestead settler actually occupying and in good faith claiming land for homestead purposes at the date of the approval of this act within any permanent or temporary forest reservation, and the person, if qualified to make a homestead entry, upon whose application the land proposed to be entered, was examined and listed, shall each in the order named, have a preference right of entry for thirty days after the list embracing the claim occupied by the settler or previously designated by the applicant, is filed in the local land office.

Sec. 2.—That before making entry of land to be described by metes and bounds, the entryman shall mark the corners of the claim distinctly upon the ground by permanent monuments, and describe the boundaries, and also designate the location thereof in his application to enter, by reference to natural objects or permanent monuments, so that the location thereof may be readily determined and preliminary to the application for patent, the entryman shall cause the claim to be surveyed and platted by a surveyor to be previously designated by the surveyor-general of the state or district in which the land is situated, in manner and form, as near as practicable as deputy surveyors are designated to survey mining claims, and such surveyors shall take an oath of office and be subject to the laws, rules and regulations relating to United States deputy mineral surveyors, as far as applicable, and the track and field notes of the survey made as aforesaid shall be filed by the applicant for patent with the proof of residence, qualifications, and improvements required to be filed with final proofs in cases of homestead entry. The commutation provisions of the homestead law shall not apply to entries made under this act.

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR TERRITORIAL FAIR.

Preparations are under way for the second annual territorial fair, and the dates selected are November 12 to 17, 1906.

The organization was begun at a recent meeting of the commissioners, who are J. C. Adams of Phoenix, B. A. Packard of Naco, and T. E. Pollock of Flagstaff.

Vernon L. Clark will again have charge of the office work and will direct the details of arrangements for the coming fair.

The line of organization will be similar to that of last year. The boards of supervisors of the several counties of the territory have been requested to appoint commissioners to represent their respective counties so that there will be someone in each county to look after the interest of the fair.

Superintendents of departments have been appointed as follows:

Mineral—Epes Randolph, of Tucson.
Horses and Mules—W. W. Cook, of Phoenix.
Cattle—A. C. McQueen, of Mesa.
Swine—C. M. Baum, of Phoenix.
Sheep and Goats—C. C. Hutchinson, of Seligman.

Poultry and Pigeons—C. B. Wood, of Phoenix.
Apiary—William Rohrig, of Tempe.
Educational—A. J. Matthews, of Tempe.

Agricultural—V. A. Clark, of Phoenix.

Speed—Shirley Christy, of Phoenix. There are several appointments yet to be made, and these will be considered at the next meeting of the commission.

The premium lists are being prepared by the several superintendents, and when completed will be sent to the several county commissioners for distribution and by mail to all applicants.

PROSPEROUS TIMES IN APACHE AND NAVAJO

May Lambs Bring $2 A Head For October Delivery

New Telephone Line To Holbrook And Other Towns

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Stock and farming interests of Apache and Navajo counties were never in such a prosperous condition in the history of the northern part of the territory," said F. W. Nelson of Winslow yesterday to a Journal-Miner man.

"The outlook for a large crop is certainly good, water is plentiful, and the large calf and lamb crop also contributes much to the general prosperity and good feeling that prevails in business conditions."

Several thousand of the May lambs have already been contracted for at the rate of $2 per head for delivery to the October markets. This is certainly a good price for lambs, and the sheep raisers are correspondingly happy."

"Work was recently started on a telephone line connecting Holbrook with Snowflake, St. Johns and Eagar. The new line will be 115 miles in length, and it is expected that the company will have it in operation this coming fall. The new line will fill a long felt want in the business interests of Apache county, and will be evidence that the northern part of the territory is making rapid industrial advances as well as the central and southern parts."

Mr. Nelson is one of the leading citizens of his county. He is vice-president of the Navajo county bank at Winslow and president of the Navajo county banking and trust company of St. Johns, and a leading director of the telephone company that is engaged in the construction of the new line.

He is also identified with the stock interests, and takes a keen interest in all public affairs affecting the welfare of his county or the territory in general.

He returned yesterday to his home after a pleasant visit here combining business with pleasure, stating as he stepped on the train that he was most agreeably surprised at the business conditions of Prescott, and the push and enterprise of its people.
